Do you qualify for disability tax credits?

Tax season is upon us – and if you're a survivor, senior citizen, or family caregiver who has incurred medical and/or non-medical costs over the past year, you will benefit from this free educational workshop which will be focused on identifying the inner workings of disability tax credits, as well as providing additional tips and resources for tax filing. Professionals are also encouraged to join as you will gain expert knowledge to better support your clients.
